Tramore Park is a large soccer park on the East-West Connector between Powder Springs Road and Austell Road in southwest Cobb County. The park has concession and restroom facilities on site.

From the I-75 / Delk Road interchange:

1. Take I-75 to exit #261 (old exit #111): Delk Road/Highway 280.
2. Go west on Delk Road toward Dobbins AFB / Lockheed. Continue on Delk Road for 5.1 miles past the I-75 interchange. The road name changes to South Cobb Drive. You'll pass Lockheed. You'll pass under the Atlanta Road bridge. When you see a McDonald's on your left, you're about a half mile from your turn. You'll start to climb a large hill.
3. Turn right at a traffic light onto Austell Road (shown as Hwy 5 on the map). This is a large intersection.
4. Continue on Austell Road for 5.7 miles. You'll eventually get into a "fast food row" area, and you'll see Wellstar Cobb Hospital (name may have changed, but it's the only hospital around). You're close to your turn.
5. Turn right at a traffic light onto the East-West Connector. This is a huge intersection.
6. Continue for 0.9 miles to a traffic light at the entrance to Tramore Park.
7. Tramore has entrances on both sides of the East-West Connector

Through downtown Marietta:

1. Take Powder Springs Road west from the Marietta Square area.
2. Continue on Powder Springs Road for 7-8 miles. You'll pass the Marietta Conference Center, County Services Road, Cheatham Hill Road and Macland Road (a large 3-way intersection about 2.5 miles from your next turn).
3. Turn left onto the East-West Connector / Barrett Parkway. This is a large intersection. There's a gas station / convenience store on the near left side and a Waffle House on the far left side of the intersection.
4. Go 1.1 miles, and you'll see Tramore Park. Tramore has entrances on both sides of the East-West Connector

Through West Marietta:

1. Take Barrett Parkway (also called Ridgeway) west toward Dallas Highway (Hwy 120).
2. Continue on Barrett past its intersection with Dallas Highway for an additional 7.3 miles. Some maps may show Barrett being called West Cobb Parkway or the East-West Connector.
3. During this stretch, you'll cross a large intersection with Macland Road, pass the Mud Creek soccer park, then cross through a major intersection with Powder Springs Road (there's a gas station / convenience store on the far left side and a Waffle House on the far right side of this intersection). Tramore Park is 1.1 miles past the Powder Springs Road intersection. By this point Barrett has become the East-West Connector.
4. Tramore has entrances on both sides of the East-West Connector
